WAR IN ROWAN COUNTY.

CRAIG TOLLIVER KILLED BY THE REGULATORS.

The Bloodiest Feud Ever Waged in Kentucky—Soldiers on the Scene—Morehead Attacked and Sacked by the Mob—The Town on Fire—Thirteen People Killed. CINCINNATI, June 23.—The Evening Post special from Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: The most desperate fighting is now going on at Morehead. The Martin-Logan "Regulators" from the upper part of the county entered the village about daylight. Pickets were placed along all the roads to cut off escape and to prevent assistance from entering the town. The work of exterminating Tolliver and his gang then began. Craig Tolliver was among the first to be killed. Two others were also killed. Several houses were fired.

This much was learned before telegraphic communication was cut off. The last words of the operator were: "Am virtually a prisoner. Can send only road business." The telegraph office at Morehead is connected with the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. The wildest excitement prevails in this city, which is thirty miles west of Morehead. There is talk of organizing and sending a volunteer company from this place. It is the universal belief that the war now on at Morehead will be the last, and before it is done the leaders of the factions will be exterminated.

Another Account. PARIS, Ky., June 23.—A telegram from Morehead states that Craig Tolliver and some citizens and soldiers had been fighting from daylight until noon to-day, and that Tolliver and four men had been killed. There is general rejoicing here at Tolliver's death, and a hope that peace may follow. A late telegram says the fight was still on at 2 p. m. Tolliver had been killed. A later dispatch says that thirteen people were killed.

Before the Commissioners. WASHINGTON, June 23.—The hearing in the case of the Burton Stock Car company against northwestern and western railroads, was continued at interstate commerce commission headquarters to-day. H. B. Stone, general manager of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, was examined. In his testimony he declared that the successful operation of the road demanded that it should use its own stock cars. The traffic in live stock was entirely from the west to the east. The company cars could be utilized for transporting some kinds of freight on return trips from the east to the west, but the Burton cars could not, and in this respect the company cars were superior to the Burton cars.

The Codicil Couldn't Stand. CHICAGO, June 23.—A sealed verdict was returned yesterday in the case of Harriet Bass and J. Bass against Olive Beal and Nelson Beal, which was tried before Judge Barker. Mrs. Bass sought to set aside the will of her father, Madison Beal, which was executed on March 24, 1874, on the ground that fraud was practiced by the defendants. The will bequeathed a portion of the estate to complainants, while the codicil disinherited complainants and gave the entire estate to Olive Beal, who claims to be the widow, and Nellie Beal, who says she is the adopted daughter of deceased. The jury found that the will was proper, but that the codicil, which entirely cut off complainants, could not stand.

Getting the Sentiment of the G. A. R. CHICAGO, June 23.—Gen. D. P. Grier, of St. Louis, chairman of the general executive committee of the G. A. R. encampment at St. Louis next September, who is at present in this city, said last night that he was here to ascertain the sentiment of the G. A. R. men on the statement that the encampment is to be run for political purposes. He believes he has succeeded in convincing all that there was no such notion as that when President Cleveland was asked to visit St. Louis. He said that President Cleveland had been asked to visit the encampment, not as a reviewing officer, but merely as an honored spectator and guest. J. G. Blaine was asked to attend at the same time.

Jay Gould Not Ill. NEW YORK, June 23.—George Gould said this afternoon in regard to the statement that his father was a very sick man: "There is not a word of truth in it. My father's general health is good, and he is in town to-day attending to his business."

The Noted Life Saver. NEW YORK, June 23.—Capt. Jack Hussey, the noted life saver, died yesterday from the effects of the pistol shot wound inflicted some time ago by Policeman Hahn during a drunken quarrel.

BRICKLAYERS BLAMED.

Other Trades Dissatisfied With the Conduct of the Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, June 23.—A local paper this morning says: The labor leaders outside of the bricklayers are disgusted with the way the latter have managed the strike, but do not seem inclined to help them out. A labor organizer said: "The other trades unions should take hold of the strike and manage it from now on, but the prominent trades unionists say it would be a good thing if the bricklayers were wiped out of existence. They are a rough, selfish, despotic lot, but just the right kind to inaugurate and maintain the eight hour day. If they persist in their present course they will not only kill themselves, but drag the whole movement down in the wreck."

The coming National convention to be held in Chicago, June 24, will take a decided stand upon this question. One of the promoters of the convention said the Chicago bricklayers would be forced to abandon their present union and reorganize under the International. The strike had imperiled the other unions, and they did not propose to remain at the mercy of the local bricklayers. The Amalgamated Building Trades Council is about to define its position in relation to the bricklayers. The carpenters and hod-carriers are alarmed, and have about decided to sacrifice the bricklayers in order to save themselves. It is rumored that they are to extend an invitation to the International Bricklayers' union requesting them to form a branch of their organization in Chicago. This question will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the council.

A City Wins a Suit. NEW YORK, June 23.—The city of St. Joseph, Mo., in 1871, issued twenty-year bonds to the St. Joseph Bridge Building company, for the construction of a bridge across the Missouri river. The interest was 10 per cent. per annum. In 1870 the general assembly of Missouri amended the charter of St. Joseph so as to permit the corporation to call in and pay its bonds before they attained maturity. These bonds were called in and paid last July. The Bridge company sued in the United States circuit court here to recover the full amount of interest to the time named in the bonds for their payment. Judge Wallace yesterday handed down a decision in favor of the city of St. Joseph.

Arrested for Horse Stealing. BUFFALO, N. Y., June 23.—Early this morning a young couple, calling themselves Henry W. Huddleston and wife, of Cleveland, O., were arrested at the Brunswick house, on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy from a Cleveland liveryman. It appears that the young man hired the rig in Cleveland last week, and drove to this city with his companion, whom he married on the way. It is supposed that it was a runaway match, and as the horse and rig has been recovered, it is probable that the case will be dropped.

He Tore Down the Flag. CHICAGO, June 23.—M. E. Clare, a telegraph operator here, is an Irishman and an ardent Home Ruler. As Primrose lodge of the Order of the Sons of St. George was marching along Washington street yesterday to join the jubilee procession, Clare got his eye on a magnificent silk flag. As his Irish blood rose, he jumped out into the street and before the standard bearer could prevent him, had torn the banner off. With yells, the Sons of St. George started for the daring Hibernian, but the latter was too fleet and escaped.

Died from Fright. AKRON, O., June 23.—Mrs. Jacob N. Reese, wife of a well-to-do farmer living in River Styx township, southwest of this city, was yesterday chased by a vicious bull while walking through the pasture. Her screams brought friends to the rescue, and they pulled her over the fence just as the infuriated animal was about to charge upon her. The poor woman was so overcome by fright that she fell dead in her husband's arms as she was helped over the fence.

Revolution in the Sandwich Islands. SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The steamer Australia, which sailed yesterday for Honolulu, carried a large quantity of arms and ammunition. This is significant in connection with the revolutionary feeling in the Hawaiian Islands. The scheme is to depose the king and proclaim the Princess Kaiulani queen, or else elect Sam. Wilder, who is now in England, president.

Mob After a Tramp. BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 23.—Near Colfax, this county, yesterday, Mrs. David Challey, a farmer's wife, was attacked in her house in the absence of her husband by a tramp, but escaped after a struggle. The tramp fled as her husband approached. A mob is in search of the miscreant, and should he be caught he will surely be lynched.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT.

MOST THOROUGHLY GUTTED BANKING HOUSE ON EARTH.

A Second Ferdinand Ward—Assets of Fidelity Bank, $9,000,000, and Only $300,000 Cash On Hand—Three of Its Officers Arrested—Depositors' Prospects.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—Edward L. Harper, vice president, Ammi Baldwin, cashier, and Benjamin Hopkins, assistant cashier, of the closed up Fidelity National bank, were arrested on warrants sworn out by United States Bank Examiner Eugene Powell. They were charged with violating the United States bank laws and specific charges were made. Harper was released upon bail of $75,000, and the two others on $10,000 each. They were arrested for violation of the same statute as was Ferdinand Ward, and parties in position to know are positive that Harper, at least, cannot escape a penitentiary sentence.

Ammi Baldwin, the cashier, and Ben. E. Hopkins, the assistant cashier, are among the best known bank officials in the city. They were formerly of the Third National bank, and when the split occurred in that institution went with the faction that took possession of the Fidelity. The exact amount of the liabilities and assets of the Fidelity, of E. L. Harper and Harper & Co., are not yet known and will not be for several days. The grand totals of liabilities range in varying amounts, according to different estimates, from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000, the assets are supposed to be from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The cash on hand amounts to about $300,000.

So far it is known that about $1,500,000 of the bank's funds were used in the great wheat deal. There is no special excitement on the streets, and to all outward appearance business is undisturbed. E. L. Harper practically owned about 53 per cent. of the stock. While stockholders are liable for double the amount of their stock, yet the outlook for the depositors is not a pleasant one. A large number of the remaining shares are held by parties who are to-day worthless. Many of the smaller shareholders are not worth double the amount of their stock. The liabilities are not yet known. The assets are hard to find. From the cash on hand and the outside stockholders probably $500,000 can be realized, with which to meet deposits aggregating nearly $2,000,000.

Albert Netter, the well known financier, in an interview, sums up the whole affair as follows:

"It is very bad, indeed, and the worst has not been told, and will not be realized for some time to come. The depositors will do well if they get twenty-five cents on the dollar. The fellows who run the concern have used everything but the building, and only the shell of that is left for the depositors to fight over. It is a complete wreck, and no currency to make good the loss. Perhaps $400,000 can be got at through the stockholders, but I doubt it very much. As for Harper, I don't think he is good for a single dollar. Still I may be mistaken. One thing, I do not think the poor will suffer much on account of the failure, as from what I can learn the bank was never troubled with many small depositors. The majority of those who patronized the Fidelity were more or less of a speculative turn of mind, and will take their losses with much better grace than any other class of depositors. The other banks are all perfectly safe and reliable in every way. I know them all, and know that they are governed by careful and trustworthy men, and this failure will have no effect on business in general. It will only affect those directly interested in the Fidelity either as depositors or stockholders. A great many shrewd business men of this city have been expecting this wreck and have warned their friends who they knew were friendly to the Fidelity to look out for themselves, but you would have to build a fire under some folks before you can move them to action."

It will take three days to make a balance. Mr. De Camp's appointment as receiver has not been confirmed as yet, but, in order to save time he is having the books balanced now. Assistant District Attorney Bruce was asked when Harper, Baldwin and Hopkins would be tried. He said: "They have been bound over to the grand jury, which meets in October, and if the jury indicts them they will be tried at once. There is none of the delay in the Federal courts that is so aggravating in the state courts. We will be all ready for immediate trial, and will insist upon having the cases tried at once, and as Judge Sage does not encourage useless delays, the trials will in all probability take place during the fall term of court, and possibly in October."

S. T. Williams, the expert accountant, was placed in charge of the books and is at work with a force of men. Their efforts, with those of the bank examiner and the receiver, will bring order out of chaos as soon as possible. Until their report is made nothing definite can be determined. This afternoon warrants were issued by the United States authorities for minor officials and directors, and a startling state of affairs is about to be revealed. Before this reaches the public it is expected that several men will be under charge of the officers.

At 4 o'clock Marshal Urner again arrested E. L. Harper, B. J. Hopkins and Ammi Baldwin on charges similar to those of yesterday. More arrests are expected this evening.

Tax-Payers Caught. CINCINNATI, June 23.—County Treasurer Ratterman has his clerks busily at work sorting over the mass of checks received during the past few days from business men in payment of June taxes. He is weeding out all Fidelity checks and will return about 100 to their makers, aggregating some $10,000, with a polite request that they call again and pay their taxes in better currency. The treasurer says he loses nothing by accepting bank checks in payment of taxes, as he withholds his receipt for taxes so paid until the checks have been cashed. It is possible that numerous lawsuits against the treasurer may arise out of this matter, owing to the fact that he did not get the checks cashed when presented. Tax-payers may claim that their Fidelity checks were good when presented and that Treasurer Ratterman is to blame if he did not get the money on them.

The county treasurer's bond is required to be $1,000,000, but he voluntarily made it $1,500,000, so that the fact of E. L. Harper being one of his bondsmen for $30,000 will not in any way affect the validity of the general bond.

General Powell's Instructions. WASHINGTON, June 23.—Comptroller

Trenholm has telegraphed general instructions to Examiner Powell, who is in charge of the Fidelity National bank, of Cincinnati. He is directed to receive all payments tendered him, and to push collections of overdrafts and maturing paper, but to pay out nothing that was in the bank at the time of failure. Paper maturing and notes paid must be protested and no checks or offsets are to be allowed. In fact nothing is to be done that can await the appointment of a receiver. Remittances to the bank by mail and collections made by the examiner for account of parties not indebted to the bank and unmatured paper held for collection and not credited to the owners may be returned or disposed of as owners direct.

An Attachment Granted. NEW YORK, June 23.—The National

Broadway bank obtained an attachment against the property in this state of the Fidelity National bank, of Cincinnati. The attachment was granted in a suit to recover $31,175.25 a balance claimed by the Broadway bank to be due from the Fidelity.

Taking Arms to Honolulu. SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The clearance papers show that the steamer Australia, which sailed yesterday for Honolulu, carried a large quantity of arms and ammunition. This is significant when taken in connection with the revolutionary feeling that is said to exist in the Hawaiian Islands, and it is fully expected that recourse will be had in order to depose the king. The arms were all consigned to old merchants. It is said that the scheme is that the Princess Kaiulani will be proclaimed queen, or that Sam Wilder, who is now in England, will be elected president during his absence.

Appraising Leaf Tobacco. WASHINGTON, June 23.—Assistant Secretary Maynard has approved the suggestion made by a New York leaf tobacco inspector, that a better appraisal of leaf tobacco can be made by drawing not less than ten "hands" from each bale, taking the proportion of light and heavy "hands" so found and thus determining the classification of the parcel. The customs officers at New York have been instructed accordingly.

A Jail Delivery at Ironton. IRONTON, O., June 23.—Joseph Reed and Henry Martin, convicted of horse stealing, and Charles Johnson, convicted of burglary, last night escaped from the lockup by digging through the floor into the basement, thence to the street through a window. Twelve other prisoners refused to go. The fifteen men were temporarily confined in the city prison, pending completion of improvements at the jail.

Steamship Labeled. NEW YORK, June 23.—Capt. Frederick Evans, master of the steamship Hartepool, filed a libel to-day in the United States district court against the steamship Belgenland, regarding a collision on the night of May 11, whereby the Hartepool sustained $30,000 damages. The owner of the Belgenland has filed a cross-libel for $5,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 23.—Smith College, at Northampton, to-day conferred the degree of Bachelor of Arts upon thirty-seven young women, the degree of Bachelor of Letters upon one and the degree of Bachelor of Science upon two. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon three alumnae of the college.

The other losses were distributed in amounts of $15,000 or less among many individual firms.

Steamer Ashore. NEWPORT, R. I., June 23.—The steamer Providence, of the Old Colony Steamboat company, went ashore on Dyer's Island, near Bristol Ferry, in a heavy fog this morning.
